Diocese of Kerry Earth Week

Our Diocesan Celebration of Creation and the Care of Creation

The Song of Amergin

I am a stag of seven tines,
I am a wide flood on a plain,
I am a wind on the deep waters,
I am a shining tear of the sun,
I am a hawk on a cliff,
I am fair among flowers,
I am a god who sets the head afire with smoke.
I am a battle waging spear,
I am a salmon in the pool,
I am a hill of poetry,
I am a ruthless boar,
I am a threatening noise of the sea,
I am a wave of the sea,
Who but I knows the secrets of the unhewn dolmen?

Cover

Artistic Feature: Amergin

(on the N21 between Castleisland and Abbeyfeale)

Notes on Parish Plans & Ideas:

Booklet prepared by the Diocese of Kerry
Justice Peace & Creation Committee June 2012
www.dioceseofkerry.ie/justice

Diocese of Kerry Earth Week is supported by Local Agenda 21 Environmental Partnership Fund
& Kerry Co Council.

The Diocese of Kerry Earth Day was first held in 1999.

It is organised by the Diocesan Justice, Peace & Creation Committee in conjunction with other individuals and groups and aims to give participants the opportunity to enjoy and experience ways to live lightly, joyfully and responsibly within God's creation.

All parishes across the Diocese are being invited to take part and make this "A Diocesan Celebration of Creation and the Care of Creation"

It is also hoped that this week may be of support to making the Integrity of Creation ongoing and integral part of diocesan and parish life.

"Every action taken in favour of a just and more sustainable environment, no matter how small has an intrinsic value".
'(The Cry of the Earth'.)
