33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time C

Today the thirty third Sunday in ordinary time we are called to be people of joyful hope in the God who saves us and we are truly blessed when we put our trust in the Lord, persevering, and waiting with humble patience, focusing on the God of justice and mercy and not on the gains of this world. We need not be afraid, no matter what happens; regardless of wars, famines, earthquakes, God is bigger and infinitely more powerful than all these things and is ultimately in charge. While we are waiting for judgement day we should look at ourselves and see how we are using our time. The time we are given should be used constructively, staying vigilant, living out our faith on a daily basis, repenting, doing good, following Jesus Christ through His Church. St. Paul tells us we must do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay, doing all we can, working hard using our gifts and talents to further the kingdom of God on earth. When trials, false prophets and persecutions come we must continue to be strong, trusting and relying on the Lord.

Jesus tells us He will give us his Holy Spirit, giving us wisdom and discernment when we need it. If we persevere to the end the King of Justice will reward us with eternal life.
