Wisdom within

The Sacred Life of Everything.

Be still. Be still and know.
A child's mind lives in the here and now.
Bring mindful awareness to your body
how it feels right now.
Notice your breath moving in and out.
Touch into that quiet stillness, that sense
of presence you knew as a child.
With a sense of wonder, bring attention
to your resting hands.
Notice the contact between your fingers,
the spaces between them.
Move one hand over the other.
Notice hardness and softness, the feel of skin, the way your fingers bend.
Breathe into your unique sense of touch.
Breathing in playfulness,
Breathing out gratitude.
Breathing in gift,
Breathing out gratitude.
Breathing in. Breathing out.

In this image a child is concentrating on a tiny piece of fluff. He is sitting very still looking at what he holds in his hands from every angle. Looking more closely you notice he is totally focused: eyes, mind, hands and fluff are as one.
