A NOTE FROM FR. JIM.....

When I was reading Sunday's Gospel I was reminded of a time when I was a young priest, a wise old man gave me a piece of advice that has stayed with me ever since. He said, "As a priest, you'll either do one of two things: you'll either feed the sheep or entertain the goats." I suppose, as priests, we're faced with a choice: Do I try to please people, or do I try to please God? And if we're really honest with ourselves, it comes down to this: Do I serve God or my ego? This weekend, we celebrate the Feast of Christ the King, instituted by Pope Pius XI in 1925 through his encyclical Quas Primas, which means "In the First." His concern was that the world was turning away from Christ and putting new political ideologies, such as communism, fascism, extreme nationalism and secularism, in the place of God. Nazism would later emerge as another example. So the question is: Who is in first place in your life? Who do you serve? As Bob Dylan's 1979 song Gotta Serve Somebody puts it, "It may be the devil or it may be the Lord." But, as the song reminds us, we all have to serve somebody. The fears of Pope Pius XI a hundred years ago proved well-founded. We saw the terrible consequences of putting ideologies before God in what became one of the bloodiest centuries in human history. As today's Gospel reminds us, we cannot separate our love of God from our love of our fellow human beings. I cannot really say that I love humanity without loving God, nor can I say that I love God without loving humanity. When St. Mother Teresa was once asked by an Irish priest why she did all she did for the poorest of the poor? She took his hand said:
